About Citrus County

Located along the west coast of Florida, in an area known as Florida's Nature Coast, Citrus County is one of the last remaining jewels of the state. Mostly unspoiled, beautifully preserved, and still offering the comfort and amenities of a big city, Citrus County is a unique blend of man and nature.

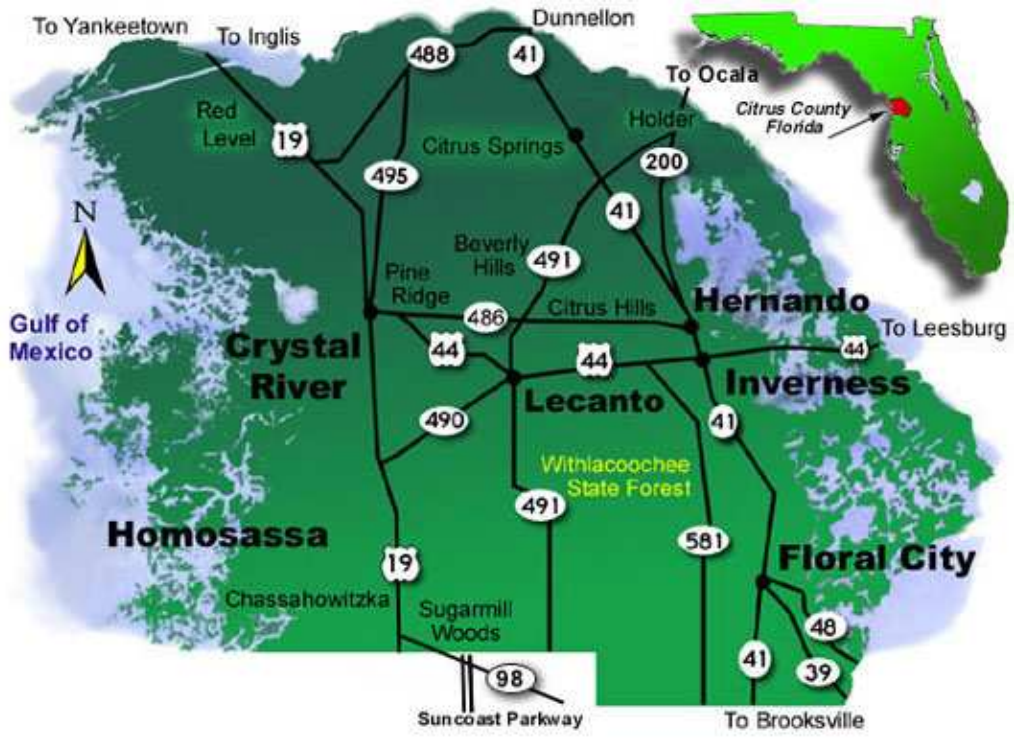

For waterfront property lovers, Citrus County abounds with it. Lakefront property, riverside property, bayside property, Citrus County has it all. Residents enjoy incredible views of the natural wildlife and vegetation, the towering cypress, oak, and pine trees, and beautiful sunsets.

As there is so much opportunity, water recreation is one of the most popular activities in the area. From jetskiing to waterskiing, fishing, and boating, water lovers will definitely enjoy warm, Florida afternoons on the water. The rivers (including the Crystal River, Homosassa, Rainbow, and Withlacochee) offer excellent snorkeling, diving, and fishing opportunities. The Crystal River, Homosassa River, and Rainbow River are all spring-fed and maintain a crisp 72-degree temperature all year. Manatees, large marine mammals, are the area's most famous inhabitant and make the Homosassa River and Crystal River their winter abodes. Countless lakes pepper the area as well, including the Tsala Apopka lake chain in the eastern part of the county.

Golf is another popular activity. Many fine courses are spread throughout the Citrus County area, providing golfers of every ability challenge after challenge. Excellent courses include El Diablo Golf & Country Club, Citrus Springs Golf & Country Club, Citrus Hills Golf & Country Club, Skyview, Plantation Inn & Golf Resort, Twisted Oaks Golf Club, and more.

Antique lovers will find a number of fascinating antique stores and malls, filled with treasure waiting to be discovered. For fine retail shopping, head to the Crystal River Mall. Just a short drive away, Ocala, Tampa, and Orlando offer more variety for shopping and dining, as well as entertainment and sporting events.

With its ideal location and perfect blend of natural beauty and modern convenience, Citrus County is the perfect place for any family. Whether a young family or those enjoying the golden years, all will appreciate the security Citrus County offers, as well as its breathtaking charm and appeal. Do not miss your opportunity to unlock one of the best secrets in Florida, visit Citrus County today!
